

CITY ANGLERS IN QUEST OF TROUT

Season Opens Saturday—
Speckled Beauties Not
Biting Freely

The season for brook trout opened Saturday last. As yet only a few of the local nimrods have gone in quest of the speckled beauties, although it is expected that before the week ends there will be a large influx of enthusiasts to the neighboring streams.

The first Rhinelander fishermen to visit Deerbrook this season were Dr. H. Gainer and L. A. Craft. They cast in that stream on the opening day but owing to the cold weather had small success. Eight trout proved their limit. Fifteen Antigo fishermen were at the brook that day and all had the same run of luck.

That veteran of the rod and reel, S. H. Ashton, had better luck at Deerbrook Tuesday although he found that the trout are not yet biting in the style that delights the angler.

J. J. Reardon intends to cast for the gamy fish about Saturday and will use his new patent trout persuader. This invention is guaranteed to make a trout pop out of the water and follow a fisherman for hours in order to get a snap at the fly. John is now asking his friends how many trout they can use.

TROUT FISHING LAWS

The following are a few extracts from the game laws concerning trout fishing. They should be read by all sportsmen.

It is unlawful to ship trout of any variety without accompanying the shipment:

To take and retain trout of any variety less than six inches in length; trout so taken to be immediately returned, with injury to the water where taken; the provisions of this act shall not apply to lake trout and the trout raised and caught in private hatcheries.

MAN DROWNS IN PELICAN RIVER

Robt. Henchley is Believed To Have Lost Life While Driving Logs

A log driver named Robert Henchley, in the employ of Wm. Hardell, is thought to have lost his life in the Pelican river near Malvern, Monday. The man had been sent by the crew foreman, Frank Covert, to a bend in the stream for the purpose of preventing a log jam. This is the last seen of him by his fellow workers. Henchley's hat and pipe pole were found floating in the water and the supposition is that he was drowned. A search of the river failed to reveal the body. Little is known of the man or his relatives.

EXTENDS ENGAGEMENT
The Francis Greene Stock Co., which was billed at the Grand for a nights engagement, has met with such good success that it has decided to extend its engagement 4 nights more and will appear here the balance of the week, changing program each night. The Greene Co. has made a hit and is achieving a popularity well earned.

BREAK PLATE GLASS
One of the large plate glass windows in the old First National bank building, now being demolished, was broken Monday while workmen were removing it from the frame.

ROOSEVELT AT MADISON

Distinguished Visitor is Guest of Legislature, Saturday

Col. Theodore Roosevelt was the guest of the Wisconsin legislature at Madison for several hours last Saturday. A large crowd at the depot gave him a warm welcome. The party was escorted to the executive mansion for breakfast, as guests of Gov. McGovern.

The occasion of "Teddy's" visit was made a gala day in the capital city and everywhere the people enthusiastically greeted him.

Col. Roosevelt first addressed the joint session of the legislature. He said the legislature of Wisconsin has done much for this state and in doing so has put not merely the state but the entire nation under a heavy weight of obligations. He said the progressive movement in Wisconsin has been sane and "Of such a quality as to mark a genuine and long stride forward in our political, social and economic development as a nation."

Roosevelt applauded La Follette's efforts in behalf of progressiveness, praised the cooperation between the state government and the Wisconsin university and declared that he found far western states ambitious to follow Wisconsin's example in this particular. Col. Roosevelt made a short address on progressiveness at the gymnasium and Saturday afternoon left for Chicago.

EVANGELISTS AT METHODIST CHURCH

Reed and Johnson Are Conducting Large Meetings
Each Evening

Special evangelistic services opened at the Methodist church last Sunday under the leadership of Evangelists Reed and Johnson.

Mr. Reed spoke in the morning on "The Importance of the Revival," and in the evening on "The Souls Longing for God."

Mr. Johnson rendered a solo, both morning and evening, and organized a chorus choir of fifty voices. Large audiences each evening have given testimony of appreciation to the work of these men.

A special feature of the word is the children's meetings. More than two hundred boys and girls are attending these meetings held each afternoon after the school hour. Mr. Reed offers a present of a nice book to the boy or girl who will attend seven children's meetings.

The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these services. The evening song service begins at 7:30 and preaching service at eight o'clock. The audience is at liberty to go at 9 o'clock, only such remaining for further service as desire.

Hear these men once and you will want to hear them again.

HOLD-UP AT NORTH CRANDON

Austrian Is Waylaid and Robbed On Way Home.

While on his way from Hiles to North Crandon, an Austrian, whose name is unknown, was waylaid and robbed. He reports that two men, one, a short, well proportioned young man, the other, tall and somewhat older than his companion, stopped him and demanded his money. As he refused to give it to them, they knocked him down and began beating him with clubs. After beating him to insensibility, they searched his pockets, taking $13 and other articles of lesser importance. The victim reported the circumstances to the proper authorities and every effort is being put forth to get some trace of the thieves.—Forest Echo.

NORWEGIANS WILL OBSERVE MAY 17

Committee Is Now at Work
Preparing A Fitting Program For That Day

Although the 17 of May is a month distant yet, active preparations are being made in this city to celebrate the day which is so dear to all native Norwegians.

The Armory has been secured for the program in the evening and addresses will be given in both English and Norwegian by F. A. Lowell, Rev. J. A. Snaresmo and others.

The local lodge Sons of Norway, under whose auspices the program is given, has appointed a committee on arrangements, consisting of Hans Anderson, H. Jentoft, Thos. Alme, G. Schilbred and M. Olson. These gentlemen are working hard to make the event a success.

Admittance to the Armory will be free, and a cordial invitation will be extended to all. The full program will appear later in this paper.

GAME VIOLATORS NABBED

Town of Newbold Settlers Go to County Jail

For killing deer out of season Jack Alloway, an Indian who has his tepee near McNaughton, was sentenced in municipal court Friday to thirty days in the county jail. Alloway was arrested by Henry Wubker Jr., deputy sheriff in the town of Newbold. He had freshly killed venison in his possession.

FATHER AND SON ARRESTED
George Lannis and son, George, Jr., were sentenced in municipal court Monday to thirty days each in the county jail for the trapping of protected fur bearing animals during the closed season. On account of his youth sentence against the boy was suspended.

These offenders are residents of the town of Newbold and were taken into custody by deputy Sheriff Henry Wubker Jr. It is said that they have been engaged in illegal trapping for considerable time. A half dozen or more green muskrat skins were found in their possession, also a portion of a hide which had been removed from a deer recently killed. In the woods several set traps owned by Lannis and his son were discovered. The hides and traps were confiscated.

HIS HEALTH IS IMPROVING

Issie Cohen writes from Detroit, Mich., that each day notes an improvement in his condition and that he hopes to avoid an operation which he expected to undergo when he left Rhinelander. After submitting to an X-Ray examination, it was found that his heart, stomach and kidneys are normal, a fact which caused him relief from worry.

Issie states that he is taking in all the ball games in Detroit and having a general good time. He wants to know if Rooney has as yet consented to pitch for Rhinelander this year.

WALSH GETS TWO YEARS IN PRISON

Woodboro Man Pleads Guilty
To Burglary Before County Judge Billings

John Walsh, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty before County Judge Billings Wednesday and was sentenced to serve two years in Waupun prison.

Walsh was charged with breaking into the home of Halbert Halverson at Cassian and stealing clothes and jewelry. He is a resident of Woodboro and has served time in Waupun before.

The crime for which Walsh was sentenced was committed January last and he made his escape.

Last Sunday Sheriff Crofoot and Under-Sheriff Asmundsen learned that Walsh was again at Woodboro, and driving there in the evening, found him in his shack. They took him wholly by surprise and arrested him before he could offer resistance.

A REAL LIVE BABY

Will Be Given Away Next Week At The Bijou

Manager Kruckeberg, of the Bijou theater, announces that a real live baby will be given away to the holder of the lucky number at the Bijou some evening next week.

The baby will come from an orphan's home and tickets will be passed out for him to patrons of the theater each evening. He is said to be an exceptionally pretty little one and should be a valuable asset to any home. Should the person drawing the winning number not care for the baby he will go to the next number and so on until he finds a taker. In the event that no one cares for the infant he will be returned to the orphan's home.

LENTEN SEASON CLOSES SUNDAY

Easter Is Pleasant Day—Beautiful Services At The City Churches

Easter Sunday proved one of the very few pleasant days had thus far this season. The sun came out bright and warm and many people felt comfortable without overcoats. There was a brilliant display of new Easter hats and clothes, a fact which tends to show that prosperity is with the majority of Rhinelanderites.

Beautiful services fitting to Easter tide were conducted in the city churches. Features of these services were special music, elaborate decorations and appropriate sermons by the pastors.

Now that the Lenten season is over society has again become active. The social program this week consists of three dances and several private functions.

FANS GIVE GENEROUSLY

Chas. Conro, one of the finance committee of the Rhinelander base ball association, is soliciting subscriptions this week for the support of the 1911 team. Mr. Conro feels elated at the generous manner in which the people are donating. Those who gave nothing to last year's team have signified their willingness to subscribe this year. Mr. Conro's list shows that no one has signed for less than five dollars. He hopes to raise $600 before he turns the work over to other members of the committee.

PASS EXAMINATIONS

It gives us pleasure to announce that Rex Reed of this city and Earl Schilling of Minocqua, both passed the examination at Madison for assistant pharmacists; both are graduates of the Rhinelander High School. Rex will soon take his old position at Kretlow's drug store.

It will afford the friends of Joseph H. Hutchinson pleasure to learn that he has passed the examination for full registered pharmacist at the same examination and is again behind the counter at Reardon's drug store. The base ball fans are delighted to see the skilled twirler back for the season.

RALPH CLARK "MAKES GOOD"

Ralph Clark is another Rhinelander boy who is "making good" in the west. Mr. Clark has just been placed in charge of the selling office of the Larson Lumber Company and the Skykomish Lumber Company at Seattle, Wash. He will have offices in the White building.

Ralph has been in the west for a number of years in the sales department of the Larson Lumber Company.

FARRELL CASE ENDS AT HEARING

Plaintiff's Witnesses Fail To Prove Charge That Libel
Was Committed

At the preliminary hearing at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon the case against Robert Farrell, of Minocqua, charged with libel, was dismissed. The complaint against Farrell was made by T. M. Bolger.

The warrant in this case was issued by Judge Walker, but when the case came up for a hearing Attorney H. F. Steele, who represented Mr. Farrell, filed an affidavit of prejudice and under the law the case had to be sent to the nearest justice of the peace.

Justice W. B. LaSelle being out of the city Justice Lynn Thompson was called in to preside at the case. After hearing the testimony he discharged the accused on the ground that the evidence failed to show whether or not a libel had been committed.

The case grew out of certain circulars alleged to have been issued by Mr. Farrell containing statements, which according to the complaint, were defamatory against the character of the Minocqua town board. At the hearing a number of witnesses from Minocqua were examined.

TOTES LIQUOR TO INDIANS

Chas. Swanson Is Arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshall

Wm. Appleby deputy United States marshal, brought to the city Tuesday Chas. Swanson, whom he arrested on the charge of introducing liquor onto the Indian reservation at Lac du Flambeau. The prisoner will be detained in the county jail here to await the action of the federal grand jury on his case at Eau Claire in June.

Marshall Appleby is making a tireless effort to prevent the totting of whiskey to the Indians on the northern Wisconsin reservations. It is said that the practice is a common one.

RHINELANDER IS BEST LOCATION

This City Presents Many Strong Claims For The New Normal School.

The Rhinelander delegation appeared before the committee on Normals at Madison last Thursday and set forth the argument that Rhinelander has a stronger claim for a Normal school than any other city of the state and we fully believe that the committee was well impressed with the arguments. If another normal is established Rhinelander wants it and the citizens should do everything in their power to secure it. If necessary a committee should be kept in Madison to assist Assemblyman Stevens in his efforts along this line. A normal school should be built in Rhinelander and it is a pleasing matter that the citizens are fully aware of the fact and are pulling together to this end. This morning a brief was sent to Hon. D. B. Stevens setting forth Rhinelander's claim. Let us all pull together in this cause. "United we stand, divided we fall."

A USEFUL ADVERTISEMENT

Arthur Taylor, of the Rhinelander Bottling Works, is distributing a useful advertisement in the form of a sanitary drinking cup. The cup can be conveniently carried in one's coat pocket and will be found handy when traveling on railway trains in Wisconsin where the use of the common drinking cup is prohibited.

Satisfaction Over Showing

Captain Murphy said that the men gave evidence of careful preparation in military discipline and in this respect ranked favorably among the best companies in the state inspected by him. He was exceptionally pleased with the order of the equipment, and referred particularly to the first aid package which was in better condition than any he had inspected up to date.

The Easter ball given by Co. L at the Armory Monday evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance. ## FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

The Soo railroad is making formal application for a permit to construct that portion of its Twin City-Superior line which is to be in Wisconsin. As near as geography will permit, the line is to be a bee-line from Fredrick, Burnett county, to a point about ten miles southwest of Superior. For about twenty miles this will leave the state and run almost parallel to the west line of Douglas county.

The Northwestern day trains on the Ashland division are loaded with trout fishermen these days traveling to and from the various trout streams along the line. With the beginning of the fishing season there is always a marked increase in passenger traffic.

P. H. Flatley, the popular Soo line roadmaster, returned last Friday from Minneapolis where he disposed of several parcels of valuable city property.

The Northwestern railway company is endeavoring to impress its trainmen with the importance of the new rule "safety before speed." Ever thoughtful of the safety of its passengers and crews the company would rather have a train delayed any time than risk meeting with an accident.

Work will start soon on the new Soo line extension from Duluth to Dresser Junction, a distance of seventy miles.

The Soo has increased all its section forces on this part of the system from Minneapolis to Sault Ste Marie. This means that about three hundred extra men have been added to the pay roll. They will be kept busy at making general repairs to the tracks and road bed. The road bed will be put in first class condition as soon as possible for the proper hauling of heavy business.

At the recommendation of Miss Margaret Healy, the Chicago Federated Labor organization passes a resolution condemning President Taft for cooperation with President Diaz and the money power to oppress the insurgents in Mexico.
The resolution compares the insurgents with the American revolutionists fighting for independence.

CANNON SCORES RECIPROCITY
Ex-Speaker Cannon attacks the Reciprocity Treaty. Mr. Cannon declared that the treaty had been in secret. The country, the senate, and the house had actually nothing to do with the preparation of the agreement with Canada, he said.

"No member of the house," declared Mr. Cannon, "had opportunity to know anything about it until the house received notice in the president's message, accompanied by the bill itself, that it was expected to pass the measure."
He says the passage of this treaty will be a great blow to western development.

"TEDDY" PRAISES "BOB"
Ex-President Roosevelt gave three addresses at Madison last Saturday, one at the assembly chamber, one at the university gymnasium, and one at Lathrop's hall. The man who says that Roosevelt has lost his popularity ought to have been present at the gymnasium. There were nearly five thousand people and they accorded the Ex-President a royal welcome. He said he did not come to Wisconsin to teach the people anything but he came to learn how the state which had taken the initiative in making laws in the interest of the people under the leadership of Robert M. La Follette. He said it had been a sane leadership and the laws which were passed in Wisconsin were now being put on the statute books of other states. He urged Wisconsin to continue the fight for representative government and keep in the lead in its laws for the masses.

RHINELANDER LIGHTING CO.
An examination of the latest schedule of rates adopted by the Rhinelander Lighting Company and filed with the Railroad Commission at Madison, discloses the astounding fact that the residences of A. W. Brown, E. O. Brown and W. E. Brown are furnished current by the Lighting Company at the rate of 5 cents per thousand watts while the remainder of its patrons are compelled to pay at the rate of 10 cents per thousand watts or just double the amount for the same service rendered. The Railroad Commission was established to give equal justice to all. If the Lighting Company can give a few patrons a five cent rate, they certainly can cut their rates to 5 cents and give all the same benefit. No one will deny that the men who are getting the cut rates are equally as able to pay the ten cents as other users of light. More, it does not apply to say these customers use more light and consequently are entitled to cheaper rates because every man has to pay his service, one dollar per month, whether he uses that amount or not.

One thing is certain, if light can not be furnished for five cents, the other users of light are paying part towards the expense of lighting these few homes, which is "special privilege".
Every day we see more evidence that the Rhinelander Lighting Company should be investigated at once to the end of giving equal and just rates to all. The New North will be too glad to print any explanation for this unjust discrimination.

THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

Its Flight Through Space Toward the Constellation Lyra.

In what direction are you moving? If you are going toward the Battery you will answer "south;" if up Broadway you will answer "north;" toward the Hudson you will say "west," and if in the direction of the East river you will reply "east."

These answers might be correct as regards the surface of the earth, but they may be far from answering the question, for the earth is turning eastwardly at the rate of about a thousand miles an hour, which carries you in that direction very much faster than you can move over the ground.

But that rotating motion, constantly changing your direction in relation to all outside the earth, is quite subordinate to another far more rapid motion that is carrying you and the earth around the sun eastwardly on an entirely different curve at the rate of about nine miles a second, ever changing your direction in relation to the stars in a circular path 270,000,000 miles long.

Yet that isn't a key to your direction, for little you, your tiny earth and your third rate sun, with all of its planets, are traveling as a united group in one direction, differing from all those mentioned. Find the large first magnitude bluish white star Vega, in the constellation of Lyra, and you will be looking in the direction of the flight that our system is taking through space. If you will observe the stars around Vega for a few hundred years you will find that they are apparently slowly separating, while the stars at the opposite pole of the heavens are slowly drawing together. That means we are moving toward Vega and away from the opposite point. This motion is in a circle that cannot be exactly measured, but there is evidence to show that it will require 18,200,000 years for our system to complete it.

Then can you answer, "I am moving toward Vega." Perhaps so, but more likely perhaps not, for it is far from unlikely that you and your solar system, with Vega and all of the galaxy of stars that eye can see on the clearest night, are moving in the same general direction around some great common center yet unknown. Who can tell? #### A MAN'S GLOVE.

In the Old Days It Served as Proxy For Its Owner.

In the early days everything was not regulated for the people as it is now by the government and the law courts. Europe was still young then, and people had rough and ready means of dealing with one another, of buying and selling or giving goods and property and settling disputes. A glove, as it was very close indeed to a man's hand, came in course of time to be looked upon as taking the place of the hand itself, and sometimes took the man's place and was made to represent him.

For example, to open a fair it was necessary then to have the consent and protection of the great lord in whose country it was going to be held. Those who wished to open the fair would come to the nobleman and petition him to be present. He might be very busy or bored at the idea of having to go, yet he would know that it must be opened or his people would be discontented. So he would say to the leaders of the people: "No, my trusty fellows, I can't open the fair in person, but I will send my glove to do it. You all know my glove. Nobody has one like it in the country. It is the one my lady mother embroidered for me in colored silks and silver wire, and it has a deep violet fringe. You can hang it above the entrance of your fair grounds as a sign that you are acting with my permission. If any one disputes your right or touches his master's glove I will attend to him. That's all!" So the glove would travel in state to open the fair.—Westminster Gazette.

Experiments conducted in England suggest the possibility that shields may once more form an important part of the equipment of an army. Steel shields three millimeters in thickness and about 150 square inches in area have been devised, which afford complete protection against bullets fired from the service rifle at a range of 400 yards.

The small size of the shield, which weighs only seven pounds, requires that the soldier shall lie prone on the ground in order to be sheltered. Each shield has a loophole for the rifle and studs at the sides, so that a series of them can be linked into a continuous screen. The idea is that by the use of such shields the necessity of digging trenches may often be avoided.—Harper's Weekly.

That after a careful investigation of the facts and circumstances surrounding this subject, and examination of the last report of the Lighting Company to the Railroad Commission, it is our opinion that it is highly desirable that said Commission be called upon to make a valuation of the property of this company and a verification of matters found in its report, to the end that only such rates may be charged the city and its inhabitants for service as are reasonable and just.

MR. MOORE TALKS TO THE FARMERS

University Corn Expert Gives Instructive Address
Thursday Last.

Prof. Moore, of the University of Wisconsin lectured Thursday the 15th in the Council Room to a large and highly enthusiastic audience, nearly 100 being present. He stated that this was one of the largest "first time" audiences he ever spoke before. It indicated great interest in scientific farming.

Agricultural sentiment is growing;
16 years ago there were 25 agricultural students at Madison; this year there are about 3000. This progress has been slow but now it is rapidly growing. It used to be thought that it required an ability to farm; no education was needed to till the soil. So the dillard was kept at home and the bright boy was made into a professional man. This sentiment drove people away and cities have been built up at the expense of the country. 87% of the successful business men of our cities have come from the country.
The side is now turning in favor of the country.

Wisconsin is what she is through education. Senator Morrill of Vermont passed in 1855 a bill through Congress appropriating funds for founding agricultural colleges. Pres.
Buchanan vetoed the bill. In 1861
Morrill tried it again and this time
Pres. Lincoln signed the bill.

The first dairy school in the U. S.
was founded by Dean Henry in 1890 with two students; the next year it had 78 students and now it has about 250 students a year. As a result, the state has 2995 cheese and butter factories and produces $78,000,000 worth of dairy products.

The soil of this northern part of Wisconsin is ideal for dairy purposes.
In proof of this note that Southern Wisconsin produces 3 bushel of clover seed per acre, Northern Wisconsin 8 bushel.

To help the Wisconsin farmer, seed breeding has been one of the principal activities of the Agricultural college.
To aid this work, 1600 graduates have been organized. Grain and seed breeding means simply using good judgement in selection of the plant, the seed of which is to be used.

Prof. Moore showed here a sample of oats which had been developed after 13 years of selection. This seed will produce 76 bu. to the acre and next year there will be 5000 bu.
of seed for distribution. Similarly the University has shipped the Oder-brucker barley No. 55. Last year 85% of all the barley raised in the U. S. came from this seed. But after 12 years work, a new barley has been developed which will surpass the other kind—the kind which made Wisconsin the barley state of the country.

14 years ago corn breeding was begun. The result is that ordinary corn produces seed ears 1 bushel in 20, but Wisconsin improved corn 1 bushel in 3.

Prof. Moore advised that the farmers of this county plant the "Golden Glow" variety of corn. Plant it between May 10th and 20th and you will be sure of a crop. If grown for silos, plant in drills; if for corn seed, plant in checkrows 8 inches each way.
Plant or sow, plowed in the fall and disked as early in the spring as possible. Cultivate often, at least once a week. In this way you will kill most weeds before you plant the corn and you'll preserve necessary moisture.

One acre of alfalfa produces 4 cutting 1 1/2 tons and 1996 pounds of protein.

One acre of clover produces 2 cutting 2 1/2 tons and 661 pounds of protein.

One acre of timothy produces 1 cutting 0 tons and 224 pounds of protein.
So that an acre of alfalfa is as good as 3 acres of clover and 9 acres of timothy. To grow alfalfa, plow in the fall, disk and drag early in the spring; sow 20 lbs. per acre between May 21st and June 5th. A better way is to mix 1 to 1 1/2 pts. of alfalfa seeds with the clover in the above named rotation and follow the second crop of corn with alfalfa. From 20 to 40 loads of well rotted manure should be put on one acre of land before putting in alfalfa. This crop will continue to produce good results for 25 years or more.

Cut alfalfa when it is in bud, just before blossoming. Cut it once a month or so, but not later than the first week in September. Use Northern Montana seed; have it tested for germination and purity. It ought to test 90 per cent germination and 95 per cent purity, or better.

The lecture was full of practical thoughts, which those present could take home and apply directly in their work.

WHY MAIL ORDER HOUSES THRIVE

They Advertise Liberally And Wisely To Secure Public Patronage

The mail order houses secure their business by liberal advertising. They make their business attractive to the people. They tell what they have to exchange for money; and prepare a statement that catches the eye. Had it not been for this sort of publicity the mail order houses that now make millions of money annually would never have been heard of. It has been the wise use of printers' ink that has made their fortunes. Not an occasional advertisement throughout the busy season, but by keeping everlasting at it. You may say we have a personal interest in suggesting this.
We have. It would bring us a few hundred dollars and the merchants many thousands. Those who do not tell the people what they can do for them in selling their goods need not expect a very big trade. In these days buyers want to be told something that concerns their pocketbooks. Just let them know what you can do for them. If not then no one merchandising here need complain that the mail order business grows rapidly bigger and where dimes used occasionally to be sent out of town dollars now go freely. In the local depot there's a people's corner and the stock in it grows bigger each succeeding month. It represents the goods brought in from outside mail order concerns. Soon there may be a parcels post and then the present conditions will be more aggravated. It seems to us that it is about time the men with stocks of local goods woke up. The newspapers cannot do all the missionary work. There must be something behind it in the way of a story from the sellers of goods, just as there is from the operators of these mail order successes. Saying "you should buy your goods at home" is not the cure. Tell them, by the price and quality, why they can do better at home.—Ishpeming Iron Ore.

Items of More or Less Importance Boiled Down From Neighboring Exchanges

Marinette

The first lake tragedy of the season, in which five men lost their lives, occurred Thursday in Lake Michigan near Clay Bank, about six miles from Algoma. A gasoline launch containing the crew from the stranded schooner, Ottawa, capsized shortly after it had left the vessel. The dead are Capt. Claus Veberg, Frank Vanderlin, Victor Nordin, Carl Nyquist, Marinette; unknown sailor, resident of Chicago. The Ottawa, a lumber schooner, had been off its course for hours in a fog and finally ran aground at Clay Bank. The crew, believing that the boat would be pounded to pieces in a short time, took to the launch. Had the men remained on the Ottawa they would have been saved as the vessel is still on the reef and is not damaged.

Park Falls

In a letter to the Herald DeWitt Van Ostrand of Phillips says it is the intention of the heavy tax payers of this vicinity to encourage during the next few years the building of good turn piked roads and to make an extra effort to get in a large number of actual settlers. With fine roads the agricultural and dairying prosperity of the county is assured.

Merrill

Norman P. Curtis, a former Merrill resident and a brother of A. T. Curtis was found dead on the University grounds near Lake Mendota at Madison, a bullet wound in his head and a revolver clutched in his right hand. Mr. Curtis was instructor in railroad engineering at the University. His rash act is believed to have been due to temporary insanity caused through ill health and worry over his work. a $12,000,000 mortgage which has been filed by the Lake Superior Southern Ry. Co. with the Chicago Title & Trust Co., means that the company intends to extend the line from Huron Bay along the old grade to Champion and Republic, thence to Crystal Falls via Balsam and on to Florence, Oshkosh and Madison where it will connect with the Illinois Central. Bonds have been issued by the company with this mortgage as security and it is expected that the money derived will be used to build the proposed railroad.

Ladysmith

The Jahnke Creamery Company of Watertown will have a creamery in operation in this city, May 1. The industry is established in recognition of a report of the Commercial Club census committee appointed to ascertain the number of cows in this vicinity. The committee found nearly 900 cows within twelve miles of Ladysmith, which would be tributary to a creamery here.

Marshfield

A dozen English pheasants are about to be liberated in Wood county by Marshfield sportsman with the idea of testing their ability to survive when thrown upon their own resources. Farmers are interested and will co-operate to protect the birds.

Ironwood

St. George's Day, Sunday, April 23, will be celebrated in lavish style by the Sons of St. George in this city. On that day the members will parade and attend services at the First M. E. church. An interesting program is planned for Monday at the Scandinavian Hall.

Stevens Point

At a meeting of the city council an ordinance was passed by which all tramps arrested here will be arraigned in municipal court and if sentenced will be put to work on the streets. It has previously been the rule to send all hoboes out of town as soon as possible, but it is expected that the new ordinance will result in causing the wanderers to pass Stevens Point up as a stopping place.

Antigo

Nine high school boys were arraigned before Judge Oden, charged with stealing a lunch which had been prepared for a surprise party at the residence of R. M. Briggs. The culprits entered the home while the gayety was at its height and removed the eatables. After administering a sound reprimand the judge released the boys upon their payment of the costs of the case.

Superior

Chief of Police McKinnon is conducting a novel series of experiments for increasing the powers of observation of the members of the force. Descriptions of prominent citizens are posted each day and answers turned in, the percentage of the correct guesses being kept. So far over 80 per cent of the guesses have been correct, but the chief promises more difficult descriptions later. Private citizens who have tried the guessing all so have found that they are considerably behind the policemen in their averages.

Eagle River

In order to decide who is to be superintendent of schools of Vilas county during the next two years it will be necessary to hold a special election. Grant Cook and A. J. Austin, the candidates for that office, ran a tie at the recent election, each receiving 491 votes. The feasible plan offered to decide as to which man will serve is to have a special election and application for such has been made to the county clerk.

Wauburn

After doing business in this city for the last twenty years the firm of Segal Brothers, a big mercantile concern, is about to move to Superior. A large store building on Tower Ave. and Belknap street, that city, has been leased by the firm and is being remodeled for occupancy July 1. The only reason given by Segal Brothers for leaving is that they wish to locate where they can have a larger field to draw from.

GOOD ROADS NECESSARY

It is to the great advantage of smaller cities and towns to have the farmers' patronage. But if that is to be secured, one very necessary thing is to have the roads in good condition at all seasons of the year. Farmers have been known to avoid towns near at hand, but to which the approach is well high impassable in wet weather, and go miles further to buy and sell in towns, the roads to which are kept in good order. To let roads remain in bad condition because it takes money to improve them is exceedingly poor economy.

BREAKS HIS ARM

Peruna Secret's You Should Know

Golden Seal, the root of the above plant, is a very useful medicine. Many people gather it in our rich woodlands during the summer. Few people know how valuable it is in dyspepsia, catarrh, and as a general tonic. Many thousand pounds of this root are used each year in the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna. This fact explains why everybody uses Peruna for catarrh.

LAND SEEKERS ARE CAUGHT BY FAKERS

Schemes Are Being Worked To Rob Unsuspecting People of Their Savings

The newspapers and magazines are now filled with advertisements of all kinds of land schemes and the people are being robbed of their savings by some of the worst land fakes known to history. The way of the land faker is made easy because the people have been taught and largely believe that we are approaching a land famine, and the only remaining opportunity for a man of moderate means to get a farm home is by taking a chance in a government land lottery or securing a few acres under some irritating ditch.

The national government is largely responsible for this belief, by reason of its extensive advertising of land drawings and its readiness to appropriate vast sums of money for any reclamation scheme which its own salaried employees may report as reasonably possible. Add to this the fact that these employees like their jobs and are enthusiastic and prolific in their public expressions with reference to the great work the government is doing, and the explanation for the false and wrong belief of the people is evident.

The reclamation works already undertaken by the government have caused surprise among the engineers of the world by their magnitude. To what end have they been and are they being undertaken? That a few thousand acres here and there may be utilized for a few special crops. And at this time there are more acres of unimproved land in Wisconsin, which will produce more abundantly per acre almost every variety of crop which can be produced on the reclaimed land (together with many other varieties much more valuable to the public) at far less cost to the ultimate consumer than will be reclaimed by all these enormous expenditures.

This fear of a land famine becomes epidemic periodically. The first attack dates back to Washington's time, and so affected the father of his country that he caused to be constructed a large drainage ditch twelve or fifteen miles long for the purpose of draining the Dismal Swamp. It failed, but no more dismally than will many wild reclamation schemes now being touted and on the strength of which large areas of utterly worthless land are being unloaded on to innocent purchasers.

Will those responsible for the investment of about $10,000,000 of the people's money in irrigation schemes around Boise, Ia., explain why the people who live there and know all about it are so willing to buy land in the far distant country? Is it fair to the people of New England and New York, where there are hundreds of thousands of acres of abandoned farms needing only the magic touch of scientific agriculture to bring them back? Is it fair to the people of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, where there are millions of acres of undeveloped lands for sale cheap, an agricultural empire lying useless at the very doors of the greatest purchasing markets in this country, lands as fertile and productive as any in the world, to tax them for the development of western and southern reclamation schemes?

We, the land owners and business men of Wisconsin, protest most emphatically against the mild expenditure of our money on these schemes of doubtful utility, and which at any rate are undertaken long in advance of necessity, and through their extensive advertising opening the doors to crazy schemes of dishonest speculation, apparently under the patronage of the government.

Can not be over estimated and any ailment prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me."

COMPLAIN OF TREATMENT

Hurley "Pugs" Not Favorably Impressed With Local Sports.

The "Pugs" of Hurley who participated in the boxing show here Wednesday of last week evidently haven't a very favorable opinion of the local sporting fraternity. The Hurley Miner contains the following:

"None of the Hurley boys were very loud in their praise of the manner in which they were used by the Rhinelander 'sports' and it is not likely they will again visit the sawdust city to participate in wrestling or boxing bouts."

Promoter Rooney says that he can't see why the visitors should complain of their treatment here. He tried to use them like gentlemen and paid them their full share of the spoils as per contract.

WARNING TO RAILROAD MEN

Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad work. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends."

The case of the state against J. C. The hearing of the case seems to conflict and by agreement of the attorney a provisional order was issued. Judge McGillan who represents Mr. Mars is to file his answer, waive the ten day notice, and appear ready for trial April 24, provided the case before the governor is adjourned to allow the disbarment case to be decided first.

LOTTERY IN ITALY

Gambling Under the Auspices of the Government.

THE DRAWING IN PUBLIC.

An Eager, Excited, Turbulent Crowd Watches This Ceremony With Intense Interest—The Prizes and the Chances of the Players.

King Humbert I. made the rules for the public lottery of Italy:

First.—The public lottery is temporarily maintained by the favor of the state under the following laws.

Second.—It is administered by the minister of finance, under whom the chiefs are chosen for their respective functions.

Third.—The lotto is formed by ninety, numbered from 1 to 90, inclusive, five of which drawn by chance determine the successful.

Fourth.—One can "play the lotto" in the following manner:

On one number (very rarely played).
On all five numbers (very rarely played).

On two numbers—the "ambo."
On three numbers, which is known as the "terno."

On four numbers, which is known as the "quaterno."

Fifth.—When one number is played the winner is paid ten times and a half his output; when two numbers are played the winner is paid 250 times his output; when three numbers are played the winner is paid 5,250 times his output; when four numbers are played the winner is paid 60,000 times his output. Therefore if one has by any chance bought a No. 1 ticket and wins the four numbers (quaterno) he wins $60,000.

At 5 o'clock on every Saturday afternoon throughout all Italy the drawing of the lotto takes place. In Naples the ceremony is held at the end of a foul, filthy alley known as the Impresa, back in a great courtyard, in full view of the people on the balcony of an old palace. From early in the afternoon until the fatal hour the streets of Santa Chiara and the alley fill up with the crowd whose hope on this day is to be deceived. The streets are always so full of life that for this extra crowd, jostling, pushing and eager, there would seem to be no place. It is comprised of the very poor. The better classes watch for the telephone or the showing of the numbers in the various banks in the city to discover their fate, but in the Impresa the crowd of people is as dense as a shadow. There are many here who have paid their last cent for a ticket. There are many, here who are in debt for the shoes they wear and will never be able to pay for them. But at the stroke of the church clock the blinds of the balcony open and the paraphernalia of the lotto are brought out—a long green table, on which is placed a crystal ball bound with silver, and an iron box containing ninety other little boxes, in which the ninety numbers are locked by the state. The officers of this performance are coolly indifferent, and the only figure deserving of note is that of the little orphan child, dressed in snowy white, chosen by law from the orphan asylum to draw up from the crystal ball the five magic numbers.

At the sight of these familiar, looked for objects the crowd begins to cry and chant, to beseech and evoke. It begs the little orphan child to draw well. And the child in his white robe, his innocent eyes on the mass of people, looks down on the beggars with their yellow locks and on the appealing mass. One by one the balls are taken out from their sealed boxes, displayed to the people and dropped into the big bowl.

They have blindfolded the little bambino, and he stands on a chair, for he is only eight years of age and is small, in full sight of the people. The balls having been shaken around for the last time, the child puts his hand in and draws. The first number that he pulls out is called forth—"No. 5." Now, every Italian who has bought No. 5 for place has either won or lost. No one holds this number in this crowd, however, and there is a murmur—and a fresh adjuration for the child to draw well. The people who have drawn for the terno and the quaterno still have their chance. The child draws again, this time No. 47, and the holders of the terno are now the interested ones, for the next will be their last chance. The enthusiasm breaks forth again with murmurs and cries and prayers, and the quiet child before the urn in his white dress hears them and trembles, for he knows that he is menaced. Before the people there is a blackboard, and a man posts up the numbers as they are drawn—5, 47, 11, 10 and 80. And this series of five is discussed, yelled at, challenged, cursed, for not one in the crowd has drawn a fortunate number. The child's eyes are unbound, and he is put down and set free. The balls are returned into their boxes sealed up and carried away under the eyes of the crowd, which after waiting for a moment, unable to believe its ill fortune, breaks up and disperses. Apathy is thrown upon the majority as much as such a state of mind is possible to a Neapolitan mass as they begin in groups to discuss the failure of their schemes and their combinations.—Marie Van Vorst in Harper's Magazine.

LOW CASTE MANGS.

Hindus Not Only Despise Them, They Fear and Hate Them.

By his fellow Hindu the Mang, one of the lowest of all Indian castes, is not only despised, but even feared and hated. A writer in the Times of India says: "To be cruel is to be 'Mang hearted,' to fly into a passion may be expressed in Marathe idiom as having a Mang within one. When on the occasion of an eclipse fears are awakened for the safety of the sun or moon, it is the Mang whose help is sought. He goes among the people claiming their propitiatory gifts, saying: 'Give your gifts that the grasp may be removed. For are not Rahu and Ketu, the enemies who have laid evil hands on the heavenly bodies, themselves Mangs?' Similarly, to their recognized relation with 'dark' worship and with subterranean and demonic influences is to be traced the making of offerings to Mang women on Dasera day and the sinister fact that there are few great buildings erected in pre-British days in this part of India that have not—whether they be temples or forts or palaces—Mang victims built into their foundations.

"The peculiar place that these popular superstitions have given to the Mang community is seen especially in the ceremonies that are sometimes performed for the removal of disease. Frequently when some one has fallen ill a Joshi is consulted and explains the illness as due to the influence of some evil spirit. The one effective prescription in such a case is to call a Mang and give him a dinner. This is not by any means an act of friendliness toward a despised community, but has as its object apparently the propitiation of the demonic power and the removal of the source of the disease from the sick man to its proper habitation.

"With this end in view practices of sympathetic magic, which can be paralleled in the folk lore of many peoples, are employed. Portions of the finger nails or, it may be, fragments of hair of the invalid are secretly mixed with the food to be given to the Mang, and before the sugar water of which he is to partake is given to him the sick man must see his face in it. In this way the evil is supposed to be passed back to where it properly belongs and the disease removed.

STAGE REALISM.

Why Jefferson Didn't Have a Dog Schneider in the Flesh.

It was the privilege of the writer years ago to attend a reception at which Joseph Jefferson spoke on the drama. His treatment of the subject was interesting, the utterance of a man who knew the art of which he spoke. But the most interesting part of the hour came after the completion of the formal address, when an opportunity was given to the audience to ask any questions they wished of Mr. Jefferson. Soon the familiar topic was introduced, the effect of the modern elaboration and realism in stage setting. Mr. Jefferson at once rose to the question. He spoke somewhat rapidly, with a quaint humor and sympathetic charm that were irresistible. He characterized the modern fashion of stage setting as "a tribute to the weakness of the human imagination." "I am often asked," he went on, "why I do not have a real dog Schneider. But if I did none of you would be satisfied. You would go home saying, 'Well, Schneider never looked like that dog! You love Schneider because you have made him out of a piece of your own heart. And then?' meditatively, 'if I had a real Schneider some one in the gallery would probably whistle to him at the critical moment, and he would bark and spoil the play, while if he knew his part perfectly and did just what Schneider ought to do—pausing and with his delightful smile—Schneider would be the hero and not Rip!" Then, with a twinkle of the eye, he summed up the whole matter with the quiet remark, "Realism with a tail to wag in the wrong place is a dangerous thing."

BALZAC'S TROUSERS.

What the Author Meant When He Told the Tailor "No Feet."

In a village in the heart of Touraine there lives an old man whose pride it is that he once had the honor of making a pair of trousers for Balzac. The old tailor delights to tell of his meeting with the distinguished Frenchman.

When the tailor got to the chateau where Balzac was staying he found him in the garden at work on a novel. He was so busy that the tailor waited in silence. Many sheets of paper, covered with fine writing, lay around him. He would write a spell, then stare wildly about, and then go at it again as if he knew that a word was waiting for his words.

After standing near and watching the great man awhile the tailor at last felt that he must interrupt Balzac in order to get his measure for the trousers. Balzac was extremely good natured—smiled as the tailor measured him, but spoke but once.

"No feet," said he as the tailor finished his measurements. Then he turned to his work.

The worthy tailor had no idea at all what this meant, but for some reason he had not courage enough to interrupt the novelist again to ask. However, the tailor chanced to meet a servant on his way out and of him inquired what M. Balzac meant by "No feet."

"Oh," responded the servant, "M. Balzac wants his trousers made without any openings at the bottom so that he can sit and write without having to put on slippers."—Harper's Weekly.

PITY THE POOR BURGLAR.

Receive Him With Open House and an Appetizing Lunch.

A Chicago man has dispensed with locks and other safeguards against burglars at his home. "If the right hand of fellowship were extended to burglars instead of the kick and threat the world would be better, the penitentiaries would be emptied in a short time, and there would be no need of lock and keys," he says.

So, if you are a true reformer seriously working in the spirit of brotherly love for the betterment of mankind, extend the right hand of fellowship to the housebreaker. Don't let the dog loose at night. Rather keep him chained. Have the door unlocked and emblazoned above it in electric lights a cordial "Welcome, Burglars!"

If one enters do not kick or threaten him. Stay quietly in bed. Leave the things he wants where he can find them without trouble. Leave a few ham sandwiches and some pie on the dining room table along with a note telling him that there are a couple of bottles of beer on ice in the refrigerator.

If you do that a few times you will find that you will have no further need for locks and keys at your house. You will be ashamed even to take the trouble to lock up anything you have in the house.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.
